

Thank you for applying to be part of World Wide Views, the first-ever global citizen consultation on climate policy! The Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Colorado is the host for this event.

We will be choosing 100 participants from thousands of applicants based on a number of factors. In an effort to ensure maximum diversity and representation among our participant group, we will consider:

- Age,
- Gender,
- Race/Ethnicity,
- Income,
- Educational Level,
- Occupation, and
- Geographical Zone.

Criteria and categories are adapted from statistics from the 2000 census data. <http://Factfinder.census.gov/>

Since we will be selecting participants on the basis of these criteria, answering questions about them is a necessary requirement for applying to be part of the WWViews program. Applicants must be at least 18 years of age.

Please complete the attached, short survey with the information requested, and your application will be considered on the basis of the criteria described above. Please remember that application does not guarantee participation; we will notify you by late August as to whether you have been confirmed to participate in WWViews.

For more information about World Wide Views and its goals, please visit <http://www.wwviews.org/>. For questions, please email worldwideviewscolorado@gmail.com or call 303.384.2335.
